La Table Francophone et La Chandeleur

Join us for La Chandeleur and learn about the French holiday while enjoying some crêpes!

The French tradition La Chandeleur (Candlemas) takes place every year on the 2nd of February. The festival was created in 472 by Pope Gelasius I and the name comes from the candles that were traditionally used during this occasion. It also marked the day that Christians could finally put away their nativity scenes. Nowadays, la Chandeleur is mostly known as the day of crêpes! It is a day when families and friends make and enjoy crêpes together. Want to know more about why crêpes were chosen? Stop by on February 2 to find out!
